Sixth Sunday of Easter

May 9, 2010

*Peace I leave with you;
my peace I give to you.
I do not give to you as the world gives.
Do not let your hearts be troubled,
and do not let them be afraid.*

JOHN 14:23-29

SIXTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

(Acts 15:1-2, 22-29; Psalm 67; Revelation 21:10-14, 22-23)

KEY VERSE: "Peace I leave with you; my peace I give to you"

(v 27). READING: As Jesus prepared for the cross and his final battle with the powers of evil, he comforted his fearful and bewildered disciples about his impending departure. The disciples were afraid that Jesus was abandoning them, but he assured them that he would not leave them orphans. He and the Father would send another advocate (Greek, parakletos). A "paraklete" was legal terminology for one who would give witness in someone's favor in a court of law. The Holy Spirit would lead the disciples into a deeper truth about God and remind them of everything that Jesus taught them. The unbelieving world could not accept these divine truths because they did not love Jesus and did not keep his commands. Jesus' disciples would prove their love by obedience to his word. Jesus granted his followers the gift of peace as they awaited the fulfillment of his promises. The peace that Jesus offered his followers was not the absence of trouble, but everything that made for their highest good (Hebrew, "shalom"). Jesus was going back to his Father and be released from the human limitations of this world. He would be restored to his glory; and if his disciples really loved him, they would be glad that it was so. REFLECTING: Am I being true to Christ's word at home and work? PRAYING: Risen Lord, fill my heart with your peace.

part in several personal tragedies, and how God's Saving Word brought her out of that darkness and into the Light of Truth! Her testimony exposes the hazardous aspects of recent New Age block-busters such as "The Secret," "A Course in Miracles" and Eckhart Tolle's "A New Earth" and in doing so reinforces the saving Truths of The Catholic Faith. Sharon is a regular quest on Catholic Answers Live and is a national speaker. Visit www.NewAgeDeception.com for more information.
